Price $1.25.

From The Syracuse Standard.

"Here is an array of wit, humor, ameedote, fun, facts and fanciae, such as was never rathered together before within the two lids of a volume. It is a perfect, avalanche of good things. The author must be 'some pumpkins,' if not more. If the reader is soing a journey, or about spending a few days 'out of town,' let him call sind get a copy.

"This is simply a collection of box mosts, spley paragraphs, ancedotes, &c., which, ne wettheless, are like. Orient pearls at random strung,' none the less valuable on that account. Lovers of fun will boy this book and so should sedentary persons of every class, as a preventive of the 'blues' or hypochondria."

From The Springfield Republican.

"The compilation is very comprehensive, and, so far as we have examined it, is drawn from the best controes. We propose to show our appreciation of its contents by piacing selections from them among our 'pleasant pragraphs."
